

Terms of Reference for Observers of the EU EOM to Gabon 2025

Presidential elections, 12 April 2025

Possible presidential run-off, 14 days after the announcement of the results

Specific Health advisory for Gabon

There is risk of malaria and other insect bite disease (mosquitoes, flies, fleas; ticks) such as dengue, trypanosomiasis, Chikungunya, Zika prevailing during the rainy season. Yellow fever vaccination is mandatory. Other vaccinations (Hepatitis A and B, Rabies, Typhoid, Meningitis) are highly recommended. Malaria chemoprophylaxis treatment is strongly advised after medical advice for experts and observers arriving in Gabon.

In addition, experts and observers should apply careful measures with water (bottled water only), food and to further prevent insect bites (mosquito repellent).

All experts and observers, and in particular the ones with pre-existing health conditions should thoroughly discuss it with their Doctor when requesting the Fit-to-work certificate.
